A Cleveland Club Formed.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

Enckingham Courtmouse. Va., October 10.—
There was organized on Friday night last a Democratic club to aid in the election of Clevelhand and Stevenson to the presidency and vicepresidency, and also of H. St. George Turker to Congress. The place of meeting was Terms school-house, in the boundaries of Wright's precinct, Hickingham county.

Mr. D. S. G. Cahedl being present was called upon to address the club. For three quarters of an hour he advocated the claims of the Democratic candidates and defended Democratic principles. He devoted the greater portion of his speech to assatiling the provisions of the McKinley tariff and those of the Lodge force bill. He said the wrongs of the farmers could be beat righted by the Democratic party.

Mr. A. C. Wood was elected president of the Cleveland ciut, and Mr. John Twyman was elected its secretary.

THE NAVAL PARADE.

The naval parade was a grand success. The weather was perfect and lusiness was generally suspended. The city seemed deserted, and everybody was on the water front of the bay or aboard steamers, yachts, or row-loats. The parade was one of the most novel sights ever witnessed. The best display was a series of grantle floats illustrative of the advance in shipting lines to dumbus's voyage.

HOW ARRESTED.

The men were lured into town and into the court-house with their arms in hand by the promises of "Kentucky Bill" and his companion Webb to go on their ball bond and divide the reward with them. They are said to be members of the Hatfield-McCoy gang. Several men were summened to help to arrest them when they should reach town and it was expected that the men would be disarmed only after a fight, but no one was burt.
